Dear [NAME],

Greetings from the Philippine Eagle Foundation!

The Biosphere Reserve of the yApayaos is an important Philippine eagle site. It is where the first active Philippine Eagle nest in Luzon was discovered in 2015. This discovery highlights the province's ecological significance and underscores the need for its protection. The Biosphere Reserve serves not only as a biodiversity hotspot but also as a model for harmonizing conservation, sustainable development, and indigenous stewardship, making it a key area for science-based policy and long-term environmental governance.

In line with this, we would like to invite two representatives from your institution, preferably researchers or faculty members, to present relevant studies and contribute to the development of a five-year research agenda during the very first Biosphere Reserve research summit entitled: "Toward a Knowledge-Based Future: Research Review and Agenda-Setting for the UNESCO Biosphere Reserve of the yApayaos," which will be held on October 9–10, 2025 in Luna, Apayao.

The Research Summit aims to gather studies related to the Biosphere Reserve of the yApayaos with the following themes from various institutions:

1. Policies, governance, and sustainability
2. Geographic Information System (GIS)
3. Biodiversity Research and Conservation
4. Climate Change and Ecosystem Resilience
5. Indigenous Knowledge Systems and Practices

As a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve and a living laboratory, the Research Summit seeks to identify the priority needs of the Biosphere Reserve and to chart a strategic research agenda that will inform policy, guide management decisions, and support sustainable development in the years ahead.

Each institution will be allotted a maximum of ten (10) minutes to present a summary of research conducted by your institution related to the province of Apayao from 2020 to 2025, highlighting key findings and results.

Please confirm your attendance and headcount until [DATE]. We shall send the program and details of your accommodation after you've confirmed attendance. However, we hope you can cover the transportation and official time of your participants.

Should you have any questions or require further information, please feel free to contact our project coordinator, [NAME], at [CONTACT NUMBER] or via email at [EMAIL ADDRESS].

Thank you, and we look forward to future collaborations with you.

Sincerely,
